Red Cross and Sal- vation Army Lead List

Most of Items Approved About Same
As Last Year—Provide

Budget for the Community Chest for this year was fixed at $17,500 by the budget committee and approved at the meeting of committee members and directors of the organization yesterday afternoon. This amount is similar to that set last year though there have been some changes in the distribution, these being deemed necessary on account of a change in conditions.

The budget, every item of which was separately approved at the meeting, follows:

American Red Cross	$3,100
Salvation Army	3,000
Grace Nettleton Home	2,500
Red Bird School	1,500
Tree Planting	300
Girl Scouts	450
Under-Privileged Child	850
Carnegie Library	1,000
Relief Work	1,000
School Athletic Association	1,600
Emergency Fund	2,200

Total $17,500

It was decided at the meeting that all relief work would be done by the Salvation Army, perhaps under the direction of a general committee. A number of cases of duplication last year resulted because the Red Cross and the Salvation Army both did relief and medical work and for this reason it was deemed advisable to consign all relief work to the Salvation Army and all cases requiring medical attention or nursing to the Red Cross. The $1,000 which, technically, is not placed in either fund will be used for this work.

The Boy Scout fund which was $450 last year and $400 of the school athletic fund have been used to form a new beneficiary, the Under-Privileged Child. A move for the benefit of this worthy cause was started some time ago by the Kiwanis club and the fund will, in all probability, be expended for that purpose under the direction of the committee appointed by the latter organization.

It was also considered best policy at the meeting to increase the fund of the Grace Nettleton Home $500 over that of the previous year and to reduce that of the Red Bird School to that amount. It was pointed out by the directors that the Grace Nettleton Home is much nearer Middlesboro than the other school and is made up largely of local children and therefore more deserving of local support. It is believed that the general public will agree to this.

A general chairman for the drive has not yet been named. Major E. S. Helburn, chairman of the Community Chest, is out of town and for that reason has not attended to the matter. The chairman of the various committees are now busy with the work, however, and there is no real necessity for the general chairman until a few days before the date of the drive which has been fixed as May 27.

NATIONAL COAL ASSOCIATION IN MEETING TODAY

Bituminous Operators of Every Coal State Present

MACHINE EXHIBITS

Largest Gathering of Kind Ever Held
Expected to Help Solve of Industry's Problems

CINCINNATI, May 11.—The Seventh Annual Meeting of the National Coal Association opened at the Simon Hotel here today, with bituminous operators present from every coal producing state.

J. C. Brydon, Association President, stated his belief that this gathering of coal men, which is the largest ever held in this country, would result in a better understanding of the industry's problems generally, out of which would come a more satisfactory service to the public. Mr. Brydon reviewed Association activity, mentioning an emergency plan of coal distribution prepared and tendered to the government through the United States Coal Commission at the time of the threatened anthracite strike last year. "While it was offered at the time of an emergency," said the speaker, "the program is so all-embracing and so elastic that it can be used under almost any emergency. It provides for placing at the disposal of government, on a purely voluntary, cooperative basis, the entire resources of the bituminous industry in times of emergency. It has the endorsement of the wholesale and retail coal associations and the American Railway Association. One of the essential features is that under this plan of emergency distribution the usual channels of trade would not be disturbed. In this offer, the nature of which was unprecedented, it is pleasing to record the unanimous and unselfish thought of the bituminous industry in times of stress." Mr. Brydon stated that even to detail of personnel this plan can be placed in operation by the National Coal Association any time the occasion should require.

H. L. Gandy Speaks
Harry L. Gandy, Executive Secretary, reviewed the Association's activities and pointed out that it has nothing whatever to do with prices, the sale of coal, competitive freight rates or between mining districts, wages or wage negotiations. "On the occasion of numerous governmental inquiries," said Mr. Gandy, "including the investigation by the United States Coal Commission, this industry has unreservedly and wholeheartedly presented all information requested. The association has endeavored to truthfully present the story of bituminous coal production. It is gratifying, indeed, that some headway is being made toward an understanding on the part of the public and the government that this basic industry seeks no unfair advantage of anyone and asks only the right to live." On the basis of the present transportation facilities and with a three year wage agreement having been signed, Mr. Gandy prophesied an abundant supply of bituminous coal for the American consuming public at mine prices which are below those of any coal producing country in the world.

R. S. Kellogg, Secretary of the News Print Service Bureau, of New York City, spoke on "Truth in Business." The value of accurate information to an industry and to the public was stressed by Mr. Kellogg, who cited numerous instances wherein association statistics are generally very helpful both to buyer and seller.

Many Noted Speakers
The reports of the officers and various committees of the association will be taken up for consideration and action thereon at the last session of the annual meeting on Friday, the 16th. The session Thursday will be devoted largely to addresses from persons outside the industry, including Samuel B. Crowell, of Philadelphia, President of the National Retail Coal Merchants' Association on "Our Customers"; John Lee Mahin, of New York City, President of the Federal Advertising Agency, on "Merchandising"; Melville E. Stone, of New York City, on "The Associated Press"; and George H. Cushing, of Washington, on "Where Do We Go From Here."

LOW ASH POWER PLANT IS BURNED

Quick Work Saves Tipple in Fire
Last Night—Cause Is Unknown

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the power plant of the Low Ash Mining company at Excessor last night. The damage has not been estimated. Quick work of men around the camp saved the tipple from burning.

The fire was discovered at 10:30 o'clock last night. A crew of men fought the fire, throwing water on it from a hose but was unable to save the power plant. The tipple caught fire but the men were able to extinguish it before serious damage was done.

F. D. Hart, Jr., owner of the mine, was out of town when the fire occurred, having gone to Cincinnati to the coal operators' meeting.

Sweeping Decision Affecting Whole
State Given by Supreme Court

By Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 11.—Motion pictures of whatever sort were held to be theatrical performances by State Supreme Court yesterday and therefore are barred from being exhibited on Sundays.

The decision, sweeping in its scope, is believed to include the exhibition of the motion pictures in churches on Sunday in the prohibition. No mention of the showing of pictures in churches is mentioned in the court's opinion, however.

The court's decision was given in the appeal of Walter K. Richards, operator of a motion picture theater at Findlay, from a sentence of $200 and costs imposed upon him by the Hancock County courts for operating on Sunday.

SUN YAT SEN PRESIDENT OF CHINA DEAD

Noted Chinaman Passes Away at Hong Kong Today

FIRST PRESIDENT

Talented Man Has Had Many Ups and Downs—Was Born in Honolulu in 1862 and
Was Christian

By Associated Press
HONG KONG, China, May 14.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, president of the South China government, is dead.

Few if any statesmen, past or present, have known more ups and downs, more victories and defeats, more loyalty or more treachery than Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the first provisional president of China, frequently called "the Father of the Republic" and often referred to as the "George Washington of the Far East."

He was twice named to the highest constitutional office in China—the first time in the Fall of 1911, when he was proclaimed the first provisional president of the Chinese Republic, and again in May, 1921, when he was elected President of all China.

There are few parts of the world to which he was a stranger. Wherever there were Chinese he had been always with the same mission, the same appeal—a Chinese Republic. A small, quiet, stoop-shouldered man, with a thin grayish mustache pointing upward at the ends, Dr. Sun moved about the world holding his life in his hands every moment of the day and night, for it would have been worth $200,000 to any one who could plant a knife between his shoulders.

He has made his way through China in every known form of disguise, and by every conceivable method of transportation. As a coolie laborer, a Mandarin, a fisherman, a jirikisha runner, a soldier, a sailor, and a student, he has flitted about the great Chinese nation, always hunted and hounded, even when he occupied the high office of president.

Dr. Sun, although few of his associates knew it, was a Christian. He was born in Honolulu in 1862 and received his medical education in the Hong Kong College. He was married quite early in life and was the father of two children, a son and a daughter.

LEXINGTON, May 14.—Joseph Martin Skain, 15, son of Mrs. J. M. Skain and nephew of John Skain, former mayor of Lexington, was accidentally shot and killed Sunday afternoon at the youth's home on the Russell Cave pike.

Lester Witherspoon, 11, said he fired Skain's pistol not knowing it was loaded.

The youth's father, John M. Skain, was fatally shot by E. A. Walden at the Phoenix Hotel in 1913. Walden was in a crazed condition at the time and committed suicide after he had shot Skain.

UNDERWOOD FORCES WITHDRAW IN STATE CONVENTION TODAY

ASKS HOUSE PROBE OF PHONE SERVICE

Representative Charges Particulars
Cost of Operation by A. T.
and T. Co.

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 14.—Congressional investigation to telephone rates and service throughout the United States and of the organization of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and its relations with other corporations, was proposed yesterday by Representative O'Connor, Democrat, New York.

In a resolution Representative O'Connor asked that a special House committee of seven members be named to, conduct the inquiry.

Reciting that the New York Telephone Company had recently increased rates in New York City 10 per cent, Mr. O'Connor declared that telephone service throughout the country is "substantially controlled by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, operating through subsidiary companies in different localities."

"The existence of such subsidiaries," the resolution continued, "tends to establish a fictitious cost of operation in certain localities, casting the burden on those localities of contributing to the huge profits of the parent company out of all proportion to the service rendered."

Action by Mr. O'Connor, followed receipt here by President Coolidge and members of the House and Senate of a petition from the city parliament of community councils of the city of New York.

METHODIST NOT FOR COMMUNISM

General Conference in Uproar Over
Charges—Ward Out of Con-

By Associated Press
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 11.—Charge that the Methodist church was brought into ill repute as a supporter of Communism and the third international threw the Methodist general conference into an uproar today. It finally voted that Harry Ward, chairman of the Civil Liberties Union and editor of Methodist Federation for Social Service was beyond the jurisdiction of the conference.

Circulation by the union of bulletins relating the arrest of a group of Communists in Berrien county, Mich., two years ago was the basis for the report of the standing committee which was adopted as the conference's final action. A Michigan delegate asserted: "The Church ought to take action so that the country will know that it does not stand for Communism which seeks to overthrow the government."

Kentucky Delegation to Support McAdoo for President

ASKS RENOVATION

Kentucky Governor Tells Great Accomplishments of Candidate,
What He Expects To Do

By Associated Press
LEXINGTON, May 14.—Withdrawal from the presidential candidacy of Senator Underwood from the prospective contest with William G. McAdoo for the Kentucky delegation in the state Democratic convention was announced today by Underwood managers at the session when it was called to order, in view of an apparent McAdoo majority in the convention and in the interest of the party's success.

A formal statement addressed to the chairman of the gathering by Underwood managers said "it seemed it advisable not to make a contest" in behalf of the Alabama senator. The decision gave McAdoo a claim to Kentucky's twenty-six votes and forecasts adoption of the unit rule resolution by the state convention.

W. O. Davis, Versailles chairman and Thomas W. Thomas, vice chairman of the Underwood campaign, who signed the formal notice of withdrawal and the loss of Kentucky announced that "it does not seriously impair" Senator Underwood's chances of ultimately securing the nomination in New York.

By Associated Press
LEXINGTON, May 14.—A tribute to William G. McAdoo, the choice of Kentucky democracy for nomination for president, was given by Gov. Fields today speaking the keynote address of the state democratic convention, following his election as temporary chairman of the convention.

The governor made but passing notice of state affairs in the first few words of his address.

His address, in part, follows: "We meet now in convention as the representatives of the Democratic party in Kentucky, not to deal with State issues, but to prepare for participation in the solution of both national and international problems. Problems that not only perplex the mind of the American citizen, but that stagger the imagination and test the wisdom and judgment of the statesman of the world."

"The responsibility of a proper solution of those problems is ours in part, and we must assume and discharge that responsibility."

"Our first responsibility is to wrest the American Government from the hands of individual and selfish greed, cleanse it of its recent pollution, and restore it to the people so that all citizens of America and all nations of the earth will respect and honor it. Then we must restore it to its rightful position among the nations, namely, at the head of the procession of world progress."

Denounces Administration
"Therefore, in the name of Kentucky, supported by the courage of her manhood and the nobility of her womanhood, I denounce and condemn the policy of national isolation and international dereliction, inaugurated and executed by the present national Republican Administration, which has brought panic to the cities and bankruptcy to the farms of America."

"First, we will renovate Washington from cellar to garret by displacing the present discredited characters in the Executive family, who have disgraced America with an Executive official family whose ears are tuned to the heart beats of humanity instead, of to the mandates of greed and infamy."

"Second, we will immediately inaugurate an international policy that will restore America to the position of international relations and national honor that she erstwhile occupied, so that all nations will follow her lead and glorify her name. In that position America will again lead as she did at Versailles in an unprecedented effort for the establishment and perfection of a brotherhood of man throughout the world as a guaranty against future wars."

"Third, we will repeal the Fordney-McCumber Tariff law, which by its prohibitive provisions has destroyed our markets for the products of our farms, and which is daily starving (Continued on last page.)"

COOLIDGE VOICES AMERICAN PEOPLE

Attention now centers on the Republican platform to be written at the Convention in Cleveland, June 10th. If the will of the President is followed in making up the platform, it will be a decided victory for the people of the country. The people believe that Calvin Coolidge understands what they want, that he is ever mindful of their interests, and it is because of this that a platform inspired by the President will be essentially a platform of the character desired by the voters of the nation. The recent action of the voters throughout the country has demonstrated that the people are determined that President Coolidge succeed himself. The primaries just held in California and Indiana, where Coolidge secured notable victories, bring out most forcibly the desire of the voters. It shows that the people no longer look upon Coolidge as a President by act of Divine Providence or accident; they recognize in him the man who is to lead the Republican hosts this fall. He has now won by his own acts the position of leader of the Republican party. An analysis of the votes of all the States that have recently held primary elections shows that Coolidge is the direct choice of the people. This fact must be admitted by even the old-fashioned politician.

The platform undoubtedly will embrace the following subjects: tax reduction, strict economy in the expenditure of public money, active aid to agriculture and other interests that need help, and such other planks as will insure a continuance of prosperity. It will also deal with the fact that over $4,000,000,000 of the public debt has been paid,—taking that much off from the shoulders of the people, thus making taxes just that much lighter. Coolidge's honesty and ability are recognized by the people. They have placed their stamp of approval on his candidacy. Coolidge will be nominated by the people. He will go into the campaign with but one promise, and that is to work for the good of the people of the country.

SAYS COAL BUSINESS HAS REACHED BOTTOM

Although the bituminous coal industry continues sluggish, the belief prevails in trade circles that the market has probably "reached the bottom of depression." The lake navigation season opened recently with the arrival of three cargoes at the head of the lakes and several others are said to be on the way. Operations at mines in the central competitive field are said to be at an exceedingly low ebb, and production in the Southern Ohio field is down to about 10 per cent of capacity.

"The consensus seems to be that the trade is so flat on its back that the only direction in which it can look is upward," says The Coal Age. "Though, larger companies for the most part still are averse to buying except for immediate requirements, contracts are being signed here and there by railroads and industrial. The curtailment of output is having a steadying tendency, there being less glutting of markets with its inevitable accompaniment of distress coal. A number of producers and jobbers argue that many large users who have been living off their stock piles will have eaten so deeply into their reserves soon that they will be forced into the market again."

"The Department of Commerce contemplates instituting in the near future a campaign to start domestic consumers of coal laying in stocks at this time. In announcing the plan last week the department stated that it is proposed to wait until domestic consumers have used up the remainder of their winter supplies and then show them that with the present favorable condition of transportation and the low price for coal now is the propitious time to lay in supplies. Later on industrial consumers will be urged to place their orders for fuel, the scheme being designed to have one buying movement follow another, in order to avoid traffic congestion and the possibility of undue effect on the market that might ensue if both classes of consumers begin a concerted buying movement at the same time. The fact that the railroads had a surplus of 180,000 coal cars on April 11 is convincing proof that they are unusually well prepared right now for putting such a scheme into successful operation. All that is necessary to initiate the movement are some orders."

The paper says the index of bituminous coal prices registered a slight increase last week, the April 28 figure being 171 and the corresponding price $2.07. This compared with $2.01 on April 21 and $2.71 a year ago. Activity in the export field was less marked during recent weeks, but despite this, total coal shipments from Baltimore to foreign ports during the first twenty-four days of April were greater than for the full month of either January, February or March. Italy is the largest buyer at the present time, with France ranking second. Porto Rico has been a steady buyer in small quantities.

The demand for anthracite is somewhat stronger, which with the lessened output tends to make independent prices firmer on domestic sizes. This is attributed in part to end-of-the-month buying in anticipation of a possible advance in prices, as the new quotations at the beginning of April covered deliveries for that month only.—New York Times Financial Section.

CINCINNATI READY FOR U. S. COAL MEN

National Association and Mining Congress Meet this Week—2500 Expected

CINCINNATI, May 13.—Soon after his arrival in Cincinnati and following a conference with Thomas Quinlan, Jr., convention and publicity manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Carl C. Crowe, Assistant Secretary of the National Coal Association, announced that nearly 2,500 coal men would come to the seventh annual meeting of their organization at the Hotel Sinton next Wednesday to Friday.

Mr. Crowe engaged 75 additional rooms at the new Business Men's Club.

"Cincinnati's hospitality is known the world over," Mr. Crowe said "and, in my opinion, it is the nearest thing to the kind they serve you down in Kaintuck."

Harry L. Gandy, Executive Secretary of the coal association, arrived Monday to make final plans for the convention which will be the biggest the coal men have ever held. The coal association will meet in connection with the meeting and exhibition of the American Mining Congress at Music Hall and the Hotel Gibson.

Among the chief topics to be discussed at the conventions will be the possibility of cutting the cost of price of coal by lowering the cost of production.

It was announced that R. S. Kellogg, Secretary of the News Print Service Bureau, New York City, would speak at the opening session of the coal association Wednesday morning. The mining congress will hold meetings from Monday evening until Friday afternoon.

Richardson, according to County Attorney Franklin, has made a written confession, implicating Coffman, and another person, connected with the United Mine Workers' office here. Coffman's alleged accomplice has not been arrested.

The Hart corporation recently began operating its plant on an open shop basis.

Prominent golfers of Kentucky have made reservations at the Hotel Cumberland for the state golf tournament which will be held here the latter part of next month. Some of these golfers are known throughout the country and nearly all of them are known all over the state.

Among the outstanding players which have already made reservations are: John Marshall, of Louisville, state golf champion; B. F. Reed of Louisville, champion of the Audubon Country club; Louis Tachu, southern contender and C. I. Dawson, of Frankfort who is one of the state's noted golfers as well as leading Republican.

Among the other golfers of the state who have made reservations are: E. R. Clayton, W. A. Ellison, W. M. Sampson and I. M. Jenkins, of Harlan; M. H. Gabbart, H. M. Emerich and John A. Butler, of Louisville; F. D. Baker, D. L. Pendleton and Gilmore Overbacks.

Contract for the wiring of the clubhouse at golf links was let yesterday and the work will go forward as rapidly as possible. Work of placing new shingles on the clubhouse is now practically finished. A complete transformation in the building will be effected before the date of the meet, a variety of improvements being planned.

L. M. U. TEAM WINS AGAIN YESTERDAY

Score of 7 to 1 in Seventh For Normal changes to 10 to 9 for L. M. U. in Ninth HARROGATE, May 14.—L. M. U. came up from behind and yesterday afternoon won the fifth game played on the home field in the second game of the series with Eastern Kentucky State Normal. The final score stood 10-9.

With the score standing 7-1 in favor of the Normal in the seventh inning, L. M. U. bunched hits and shoved across five runs. They came back in the eighth with two more. The Kentucky boys put across two in the first half of the ninth which left the score standing 9-8 in their favor. With two men out, Brown, for L. M. U., drew a walk; Byrd singled scoring Brown; Ferguson singled sending Byrd to third; then Murray produced a hit which brought in the winning run.

Principal, Held For Whipping Girl, Freed

F. D. Callahan, principal of the Central school building charged with assault and battery, was acquitted in magistrate court late yesterday afternoon. The charges grew out of corporal punishment administered, in the line of his duty at the school, to Lucile Davenport, thirteen years old pupil.

The girl's parents, as well as Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Whitaker and Mrs. J. H. Biggerstaff testified that they examined the girl's body and that red places which later changed to blue were apparent. Mr. Callahan and Mrs. C. A. Lauthner testified that the girl had been unruly for some time, that she had agreed to the whipping which they declared consisted of not more than six strokes administered somewhat lightly. Supt. J. W. Bradner who also examined the girl after the whipping stated that her condition was "nothing to be alarmed aver." The Commonwealth was represented by Arthur Rhorer and the defendant by R. L. Maddox.

Kinsler Company Buys J. J. Asher Bus Line

Acquisition of the three "Big Six" buses owned by the late J. J. Asher by the Kinsler Safety Coach company makes a total of nine cars now operated by that firm on the Pineville-Barbourville line. The cars were bought by the Kinsler company at the auction sale this week.

The Kinsler company now has the three large Studebaker buses, four "Blue Goose" and one Dodge and one Studebaker touring car style buses, all on the Pineville-Barbourville line, and, it is understood, two more Dodge cars have been ordered.

You Are Safer

On An L&N Train Than On The Street

The interesting figures quoted below are taken from the latest available statistics of the National Safety Council, and substantiate in a most convincing way the statement made in the headline of this advertisement. Read them carefully and then consider the fact that 57,646,281 passengers were carried by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad during the past four years and not one was killed in a train accident, according to figures published by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

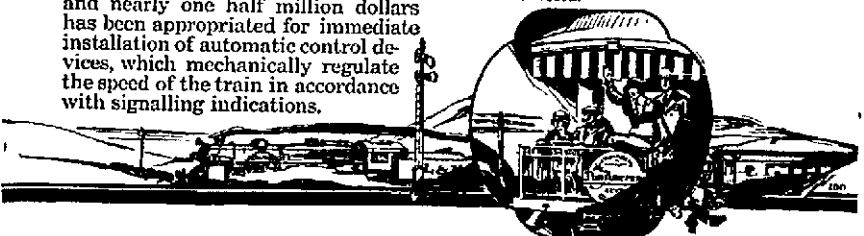

In 1923, there were 13,278,268 passengers who used trains of the L. & N. Railroad and only a negligible few sustained even slight injuries.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad, protected by safety devices of the latest improved types, manned by carefully-trained and competent employees, and administered by officers who have earned their positions through years of experience, ranks as one of the safest railroads in America.

Automatic block signals have been installed on a great portion of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad; over a million dollars is being spent this year in extending the block system, and nearly one half million dollars has been appropriated for immediate installation of automatic control devices, which mechanically regulate the speed of the train in accordance with signalling indications.

Latest available figures show that an average of 206 American citizens are killed by accidents every day in the year. Of this number, automobiles take much the heaviest toll—averaging 38 deaths per day. Accidental falls rank second, with 35; drowning, third, with 19; burning, fourth, with 16—and so on down the line until the remarkably small average of fatalities on American railroads of a little over 1 per day is reached. The latter figure represents passengers and employees who were killed in collisions and derailments.

Due to modern safety methods and constant vigilance on the part of the carriers, you are safer on an American railroad than anywhere else in the world.

DO YOU SAVE MONEY? HOW MUCH?

Remember that the foundation of success is saving. Saving money, saving time, saving sleep and saving health.

Saving money is the foundation of that success which gives a man independence—the man without money is more or less the slave of the man that hires him, the man of whom he buys, the man to whom he owes.

If you have not begun to save, if you have not begun to be a free man, you have not done your duty to your country, to yourself or to your family.

Keep this saying of Benjamin Franklin before you:

"Save a little out of thy income and thy hide-bound pocket will soon begin to thrive, and never again cry with the empty bellyache; neither will creditors insult thee, nor want oppress, nor hunger bite—nor will nakedness freeze thee. The whole hemisphere will shine brighter, and pleasure spring up in every corner of thy heart."

If you've been standing still—just the same old seven and six, same old work and eat and sleep, seven days a week, year in and year out—maybe you've simply been thoughtless or indifferent or you just didn't know how to start something, that was all.

So let's start something right now, in dead earnest. Let's begin thinking about new opportunities, new ways of Making Good.

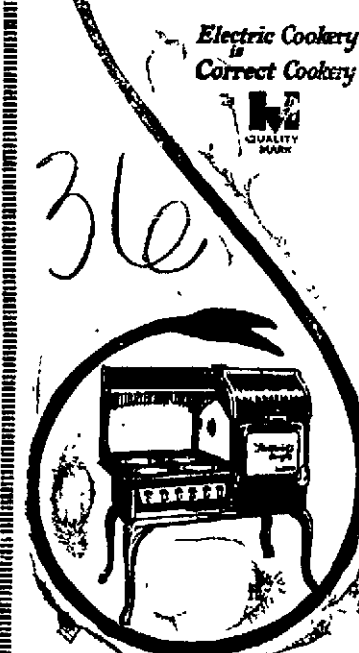

Open an account with us, add to it monthly, keep at it systematically—you will never regret it.

UNDERWOOD FORCES WITHDRAW IN STATE

countless sums from the pockets of the masses for the benefit of the favorite classes.

We will drive Wall Street from the Federal Treasury as the money fingers were driven from the Temple, and restore the Federal Reserve System to the people, whom it was designed to serve and did serve under Democratic rule.

"In brief, we will lift aloft ideals, we will inaugurate the policies, we will adhere to the principles of that matchless leader of men and Nations, that undaunted champion of common justice, Woodrow Wilson, who will forever live in history, in the hearts, and in the affections of the world, and it is my opinion that this work can be best done under the leadership, the Council and direction of William G. McAdoo, who comes from the ranks of the common people, and who has proved his ability to master great problems, conquer difficulties and surmount obstacles."

"When McAdoo became Secretary of the Treasury under President Wilson, he forthwith advised by the money powers of New York that they had up to that time been favored with the deposits of the funds of the Federal Treasury and would expect a continuation of that favor. But he answered to them that they would not receive the deposits as they had under former Administrations, but that he would distribute the deposits with the National Banks throughout the country, and thereby save to them, and indirectly to the borrowing public the discounts previously exacted by these favored King- of the finance of the East."

What McAdoo Did

"McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury primarily designed and it was left to him to put into operation the Federal Reserve Act, which is the greatest piece of legislation ever enacted by the Congress, and it was under his advice and guidance while Secretary of the Treasury, that the Federal Farm Loan Act was written into law under which the farmers of America have secured long time loans in excess of seven billion dollars."

"Soon after we entered the War our transportation system broke down; for lack of coordination and executive direction. The failure of our transportation system to properly handle our soldiers and their supplies meant our loss of the War. It therefore became necessary for the Government to take over the railroads and put them under one executive head, and again in this crisis as in former ones, McAdoo appeared as the man of the hour and proved himself the master of the situation.

"Under his direction and management the railroads of America were made to function as never before, without which we could not have won the War or without which it would have at least cost additional millions of lives and additional billions in funds."

"McAdoo's broad experience and marvelous achievements in the two great questions of finance and transportation together with his all around training and experience, coupled with his unexcelled mentality and dauntless courage recommend him as the man of the hour in the crisis that confronts us, and Kentucky will have done herself proud when she announced to the country at the close of this convention that she has placed her confidence and anchored her hopes in him, and will follow the flag to victory."

SLEEPLESSNESS

Virginia Lady Says That Many of Her Long-Suffered Ills Have Fled Since She Took Cardui.

Bristol, Va.—"I can sleep good at night now, something I have never done before in my life," says Mrs. Deala Hawks, of 712 Prospect St., this city, "and it is due to Cardui."

"I was always nervous and tossed when I should have been asleep, but since I took Cardui it has strengthened me, and my general health is so improved that many of the ills from which I have suffered for years have fled."

"I used to go to bed tired and, when I would get up in the morning, I was still tired. Now I feel like doing a day's work in my garden or in the house, and I owe all this good health to Cardui, for I had suffered for years until I took it."

"I had had female trouble for years and once, for six months, I was flat on my back. I am glad to recommend to other women a medicine which has helped me."

If you are nervous and run-down in health, suffering as Mrs. Hawks describes above, it is probable that Cardui will greatly help you. Try it. NC-157

A TALK WITH A MIDDLESBORO MAN

Mr. Chadwell Tells Something of Interest to Middleboro Folks.

There's nothing more convincing than the statement of someone you know and have confidence in. That's why this talk with Mr. Chadwell of W. Cumberland Ave., should be mighty helpful here in Middleboro.

W. B. Chadwell, prop. shoe repair shop, 2116 W. Cumberland Ave., says: "My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. My back bothered me dreadfully at times. I had to pass the kidney secretions many times during the day and also at night. Doan's Pills, however, put my kidneys in good order." (Statement given March 16, 1921.)

On February 8, 1921, Mr. Chadwell said: "I have used Doan's since recommending them last, and have always had the same good results." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

TALKED LIKE A DUTCH UNCLE

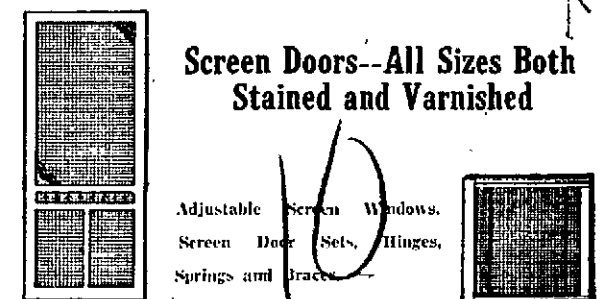

"My father is a physician and, naturally, I was opposed to all patent medicine. So when a friend told me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for my stomach trouble, I laughed at him. Some months later, after my father told me he had used all known remedies in my case, I met my friend again and he talked to me like a Dutch uncle and finally induced me to try it. All my symptoms have now disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the inflamed tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At Lee's and all druggists everywhere.—Adv.
